President's Welcome

Welcome to the 2018 Annual Meeting of the Georgia Chapter of the American College of Cardiology! We are delighted to be back at the Ritz Carlton on Lake Oconee. In our 12th year, our tradition continues! The Program Committee has worked hard to develop a curriculum encompassing relevant topics for your enjoyment.

This year's Conference will be divided into four major areas:

- 1) Cardiogenic Shock
- 2) Diabetes and Cardiovascular Disease
- 3) Stroke/Neuro Cardiology and
- 4) Imaging/Worried, Well-Patient.

Keeping last year's format we'll start on Friday afternoon, each topic will be introduced by a Keynote Speaker, a moderator and subsequent panel discussion, including commentary from our audience members. This format was well received by members.

Saturday will begin with an update from the National ACC by Dr. Michael Valentine, who plans to spend the weekend with us. There will be time to interact for a National perspective of the challenges facing Cardiovascular Medicine, and the approach our American College is taking.

Saturday morning we'll hear from a panel representing cardiology around the state discussing overlapping concerns circumventing delivery of cardiovascular services.

Saturday evening, the Lifetime Achievement Award will be delivered to Dr. John D. Cantwell, recognized for contributions to medicine and the ACC, to be followed by illusionist Oz Pearlman.

Sunday's session will include a Women in Cardiology Breakfast with Dr. Sandra Lewis. Renowned cardiologist Drs. Dean J. Kereiakes and John S. Douglas, Jr. will present keynotes on Coronary Intervention and Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathy. "Faux Pas to Fortune" and a lively game of Jeopardy (FIT's vs. Faculty) will close our conference.

As always, our goals for the weekend remain:

- Provide information that is relevant and practical to the care of our patients.
- Create a forum for dialog between fellow ACC members regarding the practice issues we face every day.
- Develop communication and relationships between our members and our industry partners.
- Explore the challenges facing us in the new era of healthcare delivery, as we march along the road from volume to value based services, and understand what the ACC is doing nationally, and what we might be doing locally and statewide.
- Relax with family and friends.

NEW THIS YEAR! We have our very own Conference APP available at the App store: GA ACC 2018. This app will house our schedule, our speakers, our sponsors and keep us all connected during the conference.

I want to welcome each of you back to our Chapter's fabulous Annual Meeting and I hope to see as many of you as the Ritz can accommodate.

Sincerely,

Charles L. Brown III, MD, FACC
President/Governor, GA Chapter American College of Cardiology

Lifetime Achievement Award

John D. Cantwell, MD, MACP, FACC

A consultant to the President's Council of Physical Fitness and Sports, and a team physician for the Atlanta Braves for 41 seasons (1976-2016).

Dr. John Cantwell is a third generation physician from Wisconsin, who is the father of a physician and a nurse. He is a cardiologist with the Piedmont Heart Institute in Atlanta, GA.

He attended Duke University where he majored in English, participated in varsity basketball, and was a member of Duke's first ACC championship team. After graduating from Northwestern Medical School, he interned at the University of Florida and obtained a medicine residency at the Mayo Clinic. Postdoctoral fellowships in cardiology were served at the University of California, San Diego, and Emory University.

He served as Chief Medical Officer for the 1996 Olympic Games, ultimately responsible for the care of over 10,000 athletes and 1.5 million spectators.

Dr. Cantwell is a Fellow in the American College of Cardiology and the American College of Sports Medicine, also a Master in the American College of Physicians. He has been a consultant to the President's Council of Physical Fitness and Sports, and served as a team physician for the Atlanta Braves for 41 seasons (1976-2016). He continues to work with Georgia Tech athletic screening and the Georgia Special Olympics. He was president of the Association of Major League Baseball Team Physicians in 2000. He co-founded the first outpatient Cardiac Rehab Program in Georgia in 1970 and opened the Preventive Cardiology Clinic in 1972, which was one of the first in the country.

The author and co-author of seven books, (including Stay Young at Heart, Modern Cardiology, Medicine for Sport, From the Heart to the Himalayas, The Boys of Winter, Adventures on Seven Continents...and Other Essays and his most recent book, The Devils Wore Blue: A Basketball Memoir.

Dr. Cantwell enjoys creative writing, reading, mountain trekking, and participation sports with his wife, two children and six grandchildren. He is an active member of the Explorers Club and has enjoyed adventure travels to all seven continents. Most recently, he and his wife participated in medical mission trips to Bhutan and Cambodia. He is a charter member of his high school's Sports Hall of Fame for his football, basketball, and baseball exploits, and still holds the school's career basketball scoring record.

Awards and honors include the Atlantic Coast Conference Honor Roll for Scholarship and Athletics, the Aven Cup (highest award of the Medical Association of Atlanta), and the Morehouse Medical School Award of Excellence, and a 3-time winner of the Montague Boyd award for medical writing and editing. Dr. Cantwell served as editor of the Journal of the Medical Association of Georgia from 1999-2003. In 2007 he received the Mayo Clinic Alumni Association's Professional Achievement Award for exceptional work as a clinician, researcher, and educator. In 2008 Georgia Trend magazine cited him as one of their five "Healthcare Heroes" in the state. In 2011 he was honored with a mastership in the American College of Physicians.

*Oz Pearlman is truly a master of his craft.
 He will absolutely blow your mind and is one of the best entertainers I've ever seen!*

—Tony Robbins

SATURDAY NIGHT

About Oz Pearlman

Oz is a world-class entertainer and one of the busiest mentalists in the country. He developed an interest in magic at a young age and what started as a hobby quickly became a lifelong passion. After a couple of years spent working on Wall Street, Oz decided to pursue his dream and become a full time entertainer. He has now been dazzling audiences with his unique mind-reading ability for over a decade.

Oz's client list reads like a who's who of politicians, professional athletes, A-list celebrities, and Fortune 500 companies. His natural charisma and charm make him the perfect choice for corporate events and private parties alike. Oz's unique blend of mentalism and mind-reading create an interactive experience that is redefining the very nature of a magic show...one that truly needs to be seen to be believed.

In the summer of 2015, Oz was featured on TV's number one rated show, America's Got Talent. Week after week, he captivated the country with never-before-seen mentalism routines and quickly became a fan favorite, finishing in third place out of thousands of acts. Oz has also appeared on a variety of both national and international networks, a few of which include NBC's Late Night with Jimmy Fallon, The TODAY Show & ABC World News and been profiled in Forbes, The New York Times, to name but a few.

When he isn't blowing the minds of audiences around the world, Oz is an avid marathon and ultra-marathon runner, having completed such grueling races as the Badwater 135 Miler, Hawaii Ironman World Championships, Western States 100 and Spartathlon. He takes great pride in his marathon PR of 2:23:52 and has won dozens of races throughout the country.
